

MAY INDICT.

Grand Jury in Session to Act Upon the East River Hotel Murder.

Frenchy's Case May Be Settled Before the Coroner's Inquest.

Drag Net of Witnesses for the House of Detention.

Bartender Eddie Fitzgerald and Two Mysterious Witnesses Now Run In.

The attitude of the Metropolitan police regarding the East River Hotel murder is becoming more mysterious than ever.

The Chief of the Detective Bureau today positively declined to answer any question put to him by reporters, and Capt. O'Connor of the Oak street station and all his other lieutenants while free enough to talk on other subjects were absolutely dumb on the subject of New York's "Jack the Ripper."

The police are especially reticent as to the identity of a man who was committed to the House of Detention by Coroner Schultz, under the name of "William Beale," in company with Mary Minter and her witnesses, the day after the murder was discovered.

The police declined to say who or what "Beale" was or where he lived, and the East River Hotel and other Fourth Ward resorts nothing is known of any such man.

"C. Kallio," the man who accompanied old "Shakespeare" up to room 21, is not known in the Fourth Ward either, and there are many who think it not unreasonable to suppose that "Kallio" and "Beale" are one and the same.

Others intimate that "Beale" may be "Frenchy No. 2," who has been mysteriously missing since a day or two after the murder, and who, according to a typewritten statement sent to reporters by Capt. McLaughlin, the police first suspected was old Carrie Brown's murderer.

Within a week, too, the Chief of the Detective Bureau has announced that "Frenchy No. 2" was found very soon after the murder, but if he was released, as intimated by the police, it would appear a little strange that he has not been seen in any of his old haunts in the Fourth Ward for over two weeks.

This belief is strengthened, too, by Detective Sergt. McCloskey's statement at the time of the arrest of another "Frenchy" in Jersey City, who himself claimed to be "Frenchy No. 2," although he was never known by that sobriquet in the Fourth Ward, but as plain "John," Detective McCloskey then declared positively: "We do not want Frenchy No. 2."

Again, the utter indifference of the police to the arrest of the man Holland as the suspected "C. Kallio" may mean that he is now in custody and none other than "Beale," for there are many people who insist that the Detective Bureau's Chief is too wary to lose sight of the fact that the man "Kallio's" testimony is absolutely necessary to clear up the mystery of the Fourth Ward butchery.

No one can positively identify "Kallio," except Mary Minter, the non-speaker, who let room 21 to him and old "Shakespeare," she and her other companions in the House of Detention, Mary Kelly, Lizzie Carter, Mary Ann Lopez, Allen Sullivan, Mary Harrington and "Dablin Mary" Briscoe, could easily tell whether "Beale" is "Frenchy No. 2" or not, and it is impossible that Mary Minter might be able to testify that "Beale," "Frenchy No. 2" and "Kallio" are one and the same man.

All, however, are safe from reporters who are unable to get at the exact facts in the case.

It leaked out to-day that Eddie Fitzgerald, the boy who entered "Kallio's" name on the register, had also been dragged into the police net.

He is now locked up at the House of Detention as an important witness against Ben Ali, alias "Frenchy No. 1."

Fitzgerald will be called at the inquest at 2.30 Monday afternoon in company with the other witnesses at the House of Detention.

Other witnesses will be Proprietor Jennings, Bartenders White and Thompson, of the East River Hotel, and Dr. Cyrus Kolson, of the Board of Health, whose discoveries in relation to the blood stains on "Frenchy's" clothing and on the bed and floor of his room are considered unspeakable facts by the police.

An Evening World reporter, asked permission from the Chief Inspector of Police this morning to examine Dr. Edson's detailed report of his microscopic investigations, but was refused.

Neither could any information be gathered from rooms 21 and 22 at the East River Hotel this morning, as both were locked with padlocks and the keys were taken to the Police Headquarters.

"Frenchy," the suspect, is taking his last day at the Tombs. He has plenty to eat and plenty of exercise, but is reluctant to leave his cell (25) on the second tier of the old prison to see visitors.

His attorneys, Levy, House & Friend, have furnished him with a pair of striped trousers, of which he is very proud, and he spends most of his spare time in smoking cigars from Lawyer House's private stock.

have looked up at the House of Detention a man and a woman, both new witnesses in the case.

They were taken to the House of Detention Monday on commitments from Coroner Schultze by Ward Detectives Griffith and Moran, of the Oak street station.

The man's name is recorded as Edwin Smith. He is about 5 feet 10 inches in height, thirty-five years of age, has brown hair and mustache, and is said to be a die-sinker and a resident of the Fourth Ward.

The woman's name is said to be Nellie Kaplan, but nothing further could be learned about her.

Evening World reporters made diligent inquiry at the East River Hotel, Mary Harrington's former residence at 49 Oliver street, Mrs. Finnegan's boarding-house at 24 James street, and other Fourth Ward resorts, but were unable to find any one who knew the witnesses.

FRAMERS' FIGHT WON.

They Have Been Conceded the Eight Hour Day All Around.

Their Demands Are All Conceded, and the Strike Is Declared Off.

The Union, 3,000 Strong, Attends a Member's Funeral.

The framers' strike is at an end. The houses have conceded the demands of the men for an eight-hour day and 45 cents an hour.

The Union has declared the strike off and the men will resume work to-morrow.

A modification was made of the demand for the privilege of inspecting the contractors' books. This was done at the request of the Carpenters' Union.

All the Brooklyn framers' houses, with the exception of three, have signed the eight-hour contract at 45 cents per hour and only nine men are still on strike.

Everything was quiet at the headquarters of the striking house-builders, at Clarendon Hall, in East Third-street, this morning. The strike of the six-day day has been in progress, and the situation remains about the same as it did May 1.

Very few of the employers have signed or promised to sign the agreement prepared by the Union, asking that eight hours shall constitute a day's labor and that the pay shall be the same as they now receive for nine hours' work.

The strikers in this city number about 4,000, and they seem as firm as ever. They are thoroughly in accord with one another, and show no signs of weakening. Each day the men have reported at the headquarters.

To-day's meeting was not called to order until nearly 12 o'clock, as Master Workman George Warner was delayed at the morning session of the Committee of the Board of Working Delegates at 12 East Fifteenth street.

A secret ballot was taken at noon on the question of abandoning the strike. Of the 4,000 and more votes cast, only 15 were in favor of giving in.

Arrangements were made for attending the funeral of Thomas Durnin, who for seventeen years was one of the most prominent men in the house-builders' organizations. The Union will be present in a body at the funeral.

Members of the union will form in line in front of Clarendon Hall at 1 o'clock. There will be no demonstration, but the strikers will be in a body.
